Concepts: Evolution or Revolution?

Evolution

- `auto` is an unconstrained placeholder

- Generic lambdas introduce a new syntax for defining templates

```
auto add = [](auto a, auto b) {
    return a + b;
}
```

Revolution

- Template requirements are checked by the compiler

- The declaration and definition of templates are significantly simplified

- Concepts define semantic categories and not syntactic constraints